

music

Here are just some of the bands appearing at Bristol Fringe

Amelia Tucker at Thekla Social (upstairs)

With her ethereal vocals and songs of melancholy, Bristol-based Devon girl Amelia Tucker has been quietly creating a bit of a stir of late.

At only 22, she has the confident sound of someone more experienced, and her influences range from the likes of Pink Floyd and the Beach Boys to the more obvious Kate Bush.

Her songs often build layers of vocals over haunting guitar or piano-driven melodies.

She's more than just an assured singer-songwriter though, Amelia has also retained control of the production side of things as well.